

Join the ARC network for ISO consultants

Become an Auva Registered Consultant

We have created a 'free' network for ISO consultants to connect with organisations that are looking for support in developing, implementing or maintaining a management system for international standards.

It is important to note that Auva Certification do not provide any consultancy services and will not recommend consultants. However, our clients often require external resources to help maintain management systems, so need the skills and expertise of an independent consultant to help guide them through the process.

We will register consultants whose systems we have successfully audited onto our consultant locator/register. We will also register consultants where our auditors have knowledge of the consultant from working with other certification bodies.

Auva can provide organisations with the ARC network of contacts, in full confidence that each consultant is skilled in the relevant international standards, so the client can choose who they would like to work with. Organisations are made aware that the use of a registered consultant does not guarantee successful certification or no findings being raised.

Joining the ARC network is simple. Fill out our online form, we will do the rest!

Global Reach, Local Touch

What are the ARC advantages?

Free to join

You can apply here

Referrals from our clients and potential clients

Auva often receives enquiries from organisations seeking the assistance of consultants. We will supply the organisation with the Auva Registered Consultant network of contacts based on geography, experience and expertise in the ISO standard, to best suit the requirement. We will not endorse the services of individual consultants.

Free listing on our website

We display all registered consultants (when authorised to do so) on our website, this includes full contact details, your logo and link to your website.

Certificate of Registration

We issue registered consultants with a certificate to confirm their registration with Auva. You are free to display this on your website, include a copy of it with your quotations and display it in your office.

Photo identification card

We provide photo identification cards with your ARC number, this can be shown to potential clients to demonstrate your registered status. These cards have a 12 month validity (6 months if granted provisional status).

Use of the ARC logo

We will provide you with a logo that you can include on your marketing material, website, email footer, social media profiles, letter head, etc.

Free training and technical workshops

You will always be invited to join our free webinars on technical matters and receive a certificate of completion that counts towards your CPD. You will also receive invitations to attend our technical workshops.

Social media support

Use the hashtag #auvaregisteredconsultant to highlight when you have something to say on social and we can help you by adding content, commenting or sharing it.

Access to Auva Private LinkedIn Forum

This is an exclusive and private area where you are able to communicate with likeminded consultants and technical experts, gaining useful inside information and knowledge and broaden your network.

Technical support

We will provide unlimited technical support to registered consultants on certification matters.

Receive our quarterly newsletters

Keep up to date with all our news, reports and industry comment.

Meet the team

We always welcome the opportunity to meet with consultants. This could be from our formal meeting at team events, or popping into our office for a cup of coffee or us visiting you (when social distancing allows).